

I've talked with the students who may be working with him.

We're going to wait until he can't climb the wall, then we're going to ask him:

“How can we help you?”